

Detached villa, spectacular views, Jalon

Jalon Valley Real Estate are proud to bring to market this beautiful property. This extremely well presented property is situated on a sought after development that offers spectacular view of the Jalon Valley.

The house is situated in an elevated position on the Valle de Paraiso development that is an extremely well maintained private residential development on the outskirts of Jalon.

The house has spectacular Mediterranean gardens that surround the house that offer a variety of different areas to take in the sun or much needed shade. The focal point of the ground is most definitely the stunning south facing private and heated pool that is surrounded by terracing. The property also benefits from a private gated driveway.

The accommodation to the house is all on one level and features a lovely entrance hallway that leads to the right to the open plan lounge with feature fireplace and a separate dining area with a lovely fitted kitchen. The lounge radiates with natural light and is the most perfect place to entertain. Doors from the dining area lead outside to the magnificent south facing terrace that benefits from a retractable sun awning. To the left of the entrance hallway are a spacious double bedroom, a twin bedroom, a family shower room and a lovely master suite with en suite bathroom.

Stairs from the pool area lead to a large under build that runs under the whole of the house. This could easily be converted into further accommodation if required. There is also an extra room/apartment at pool level that could be used as an extra bedroom and has a shower room perfect for use when relaxing by the pool.

This property has many special features to include mains central heating, mosquito nets, sun blinds and double glazing. It would make an ideal family home and has strong rental potential. Viewings are highly recommended.
